Ethical Trading Policy

Introduction

Our Ethical Trading Policy applies to ourselves and all suppliers that produce goods or services.

Although suppliers to Mathias are from many different countries, nationalities and cultures, the Ethical Trading Policy represents Mathias' commitment to source goods and services from persons and firms that achieve internationally recognized standards and practices in dealing with their workers and their working environment.

Mathias is committed to sourcing products from companies who respect the standards laid down by the World Trade Organisation and UN Human Rights Initiative.

1. Summary Statement

Our Ethical Trading Policy seeks to ensure working people around the world have a minimum set of standards that form their working conditions, by developing, and encouraging the use of a set of standards in trade. These are: the free choice of employment, freedom of association and the right to collective bargaining, safe and hygienic working conditions, child labour, a living wage, working hours, non-discrimination, the provision of regular employment and the absence of harsh or inhumane treatment.

Mathias recognises that our commercial activities have potential to impact on our Suppliers and our locality. As a socially responsible business our suppliers, local community and customers have a right to expect:

- Products manufactured and sourced by Mathias are produced under working conditions that are hygienic and safe.
- All workers involved in the delivery of services provided by Mathias are treated with full consideration to their basic human rights.
- Mathias acts in an ethical manner above and beyond basic legal requirements.
- This policy sets out Mathias' commitment to its suppliers and customers; setting out the measures we are taking to ensure that we are acting in an ethical manner.

2. Full Ethical Policy Statement

We have developed a full policy statement outlining how we expect our practice to develop in order to be able to offer strong guarantees to our customers that the services they receive from us have been ethically designed, managed and implemented. - Equal and fair treatment for all workers
- All employment is freely chosen
- Working conditions are safe and hygienic
- Child labour is not used
- Wages are fair and comparable to industry standard and will always exceed the minimum wage
- Deductions from wages as a disciplinary measure are not to be permitted
- Working hours meet legal regulations

- No discrimination is practiced
- Regular employment is provided for those who are employed on contract
- No harsh, cruel or degrading treatment or practices are allowed
- No bribery, corruption, blackmailing or bullying is permitted
- Third party suppliers and buyers are both free to sell and buy from any number of other businesses. No restrictions, as a way of guaranteeing business, are allowed.

- 5.7. Or have other measures in place to ensure that all these requirements are communicated in the employee's native language.

6. Organisation

Mathias' Directors have overall responsibility for all aspects of ethical trading at work within the business.

We are taking the first steps towards building a credible ethical trade strategy for our Company, and our policy will be to implement the Seven "C"s of ethical trading:

6.1. Commitment

We are paying more than lip service to ethical trade. The money that we spend on ethical trade and their individual Ethical Trade Policies are key signs of real commitment.

6.2. Checks in place

Knowing what's happening on the ground is fundamentally important for our company. We recognise the need for a credible system for assessing workers' conditions. For this reason we visit all suppliers in the UK and abroad on a regular basis.

6.3. Corrective action

Simply identifying problems is not sufficient. We will agree and formulate an action plan with our suppliers to make improvements to workers' conditions where necessary. The action plan will be measurable and will be carried out within an agreed time-frame. We will monitor all suppliers who will be regularly surveyed and audited.

6.4. Capacity building

Staff and suppliers need adequate training and support. This policy will now be built into our training and induction programmes.

6.5. Core business

Integrating ethical trade policies into core business decisions - like the prices paid to suppliers, and the lead times given to them to complete orders is key to achieving widespread change for workers. This is one of the biggest challenges of ethical trade.

6.6. Communication

We are committed to educating both employees and suppliers about the importance of ethical trade. We will regularly revisit and amend our Ethical Trading Policy, which is available to customers for review.

6.7. Collaboration

Mathias, and the other members of Eurosafe, are in a unique position to make a difference across a wide range of businesses by working together and sharing a common, ethical code of conduct. Members of the Eurosafe group constantly strive to put this into practice.

7. Monitoring and improvement

Through continuing to build a credible monitoring system we will develop the ability to look at how we can support our suppliers to make workplace improvements and to start integrating ethical trade into their core business practices.

By knowing our suppliers and cutting out the middle man where possible, we can develop long-term, direct relationships with them. This will help us to build trust and gain the leverage we need to help make sustained improvements to workers' conditions.

We can incentivise our suppliers to ensure compliance with labour standards and reward their efforts by giving them repeat orders.

We can always think about the impact of our decisions on workers and make sure that we include ethical criteria alongside cost and quality when selecting suppliers.

We can improve production planning, giving suppliers clear and predictable lead times, making it easier for them to ensure that their employees work reasonable hours.

We can ensure that the price we pay our suppliers allows them to pay their workers a wage that they can afford to live on.

We acknowledge that this is an ongoing policy with continuous improvements needing to be recognised and implemented.
